PRESENTATION OF PROPOSED STIPULATIONS, FINAL DECISIONS AND ORDERS BY THE DIVISION OF ENFORCEMENT

Attorney Gu from the Division of Enforcement provided a presentation related to the Stipulation, Final Decision and Order for Jason W. Davidson, D.C., 10 CHI 028.

BOARD DISCUSSION

DIVISION OF ENFORCEMENT MATTERS

a. Review and Discuss Historical Discipline Reference Sheet

James Koshick noted that the purpose behind the grid was to aid the board in consistency of board orders. The Board will use the grid provided by Attorney Koplien as a springboard for discussion surrounding discipline. Wendy Henrichs noted that the final grid will only be a guideline for discipline that will serve as historical “institutional” data for future Board members. Mania Moore noted that her suggestions were a progression where by each subsequent offense includes the discipline from the previous offenses. Yolanda McGowan cautioned the Board to use the grid for historical information yet continue to address each complaint on a case by case basis. Wendy Henrichs asked the Board to use this as a tool. Jim Polewski explained that the Division of Enforcement (DOE) approaches each case on an individual basis. He noted that the process by which DOE tries the cases before them is in place to provide discipline while protecting the Board and the members from lawsuits. DOE attempts to be as consistent as possible to avoid the appearance of “arbitrary” discipline. Wendy Henrichs summarized that this is not something that the Board must use but rather a guide if one should need historical data. Case advisors will still work with DOE on each individual case. Jim Polewski suggested that case advisors can always ask the prosecutors and investigators what has been done in the past and what the options are.

EDUCATION AND EXAMINATION MATTERS

- a. Wendy Henrichs noted that she and Jim Koshick met with the Department and indicated that the exam materials should be ready by January 2012. They are scheduling a mock exam and would ask the Board members to be a part of that exam.

CREDENTIALING MATTERS

a. Preceptor Approval – Patrick Anderson

This item was tabled until a future meeting.

LEGISLATION/ADMINISTRATIVE RULE MATTERS

a. 2009 Wisconsin Act 355

Yolanda McGowan indicated that this law has been in effect for about 1 year and has been included for informational purposes only.

b. 2011 SB 280

Yolanda McGowan indicated that this item is still just a bill.

Department Information

The Department of Safety and Professional Services

History:

The 2011-13 biennial budget, 2011 Wisconsin Act 32 created the Department of Safety and Professional Services (DSPS) by combining the Department of Regulation and Licensing (DRL) and the Divisions of Safety and Buildings and Environmental and Regulatory Services from the Department of Commerce.

Chapter 75, Laws of 1967, created DRL and attached to it 14 separate examining boards that had been independent agencies. The 1967 reorganization also transferred to the department some direct licensing and registration functions not handled by boards, including those for private detectives and detective agencies, charitable organizations, and professional fund-raisers and solicitors.

DRL's responsibilities changed significantly since its creation. Initially, it performed routine housekeeping functions for the examining boards, which continued to function as independent agencies. Subsequently, a series of laws required the department to assume various substantive administrative functions previously performed by the boards and to provide direct regulation of several professions.

The DSPS Division of Safety and Buildings traces its roots to 1911 when the Legislature created the Industrial Commission in Chapter 485 to set standards for a safe place of employment. This "safe place" statute was extended in Chapter 588, Laws of 1913, to include public buildings, defined as "any structure used in whole or in part as a place of resort, assemblage, lodging, trade, traffic, occupancy, or use by the public, or by three or more tenants." The commission adopted its first building code in 1914. Programs added over the years include plumbing, heating, ventilation, air conditioning, energy conservation, private on-site waste treatment systems, accessibility for people with disabilities, and electrical inspection and certification. These responsibilities and the job of administering various other laws relating to the promotion of safety in public and private buildings, including enforcing building codes, and the licensure of occupations such as electricians and plumbers, were ultimately assumed by the Department of Commerce.

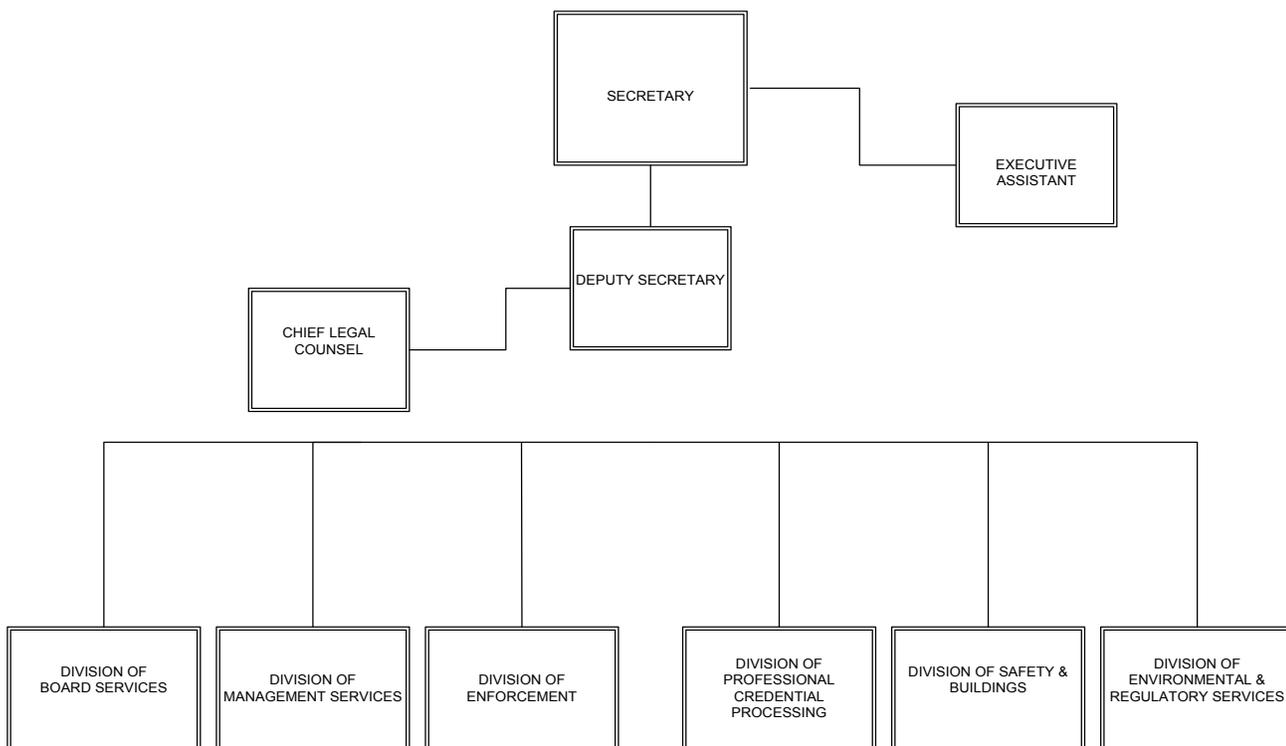

The DSPS Division of Environmental and Regulatory Services was created by 1995 Wisconsin Act 27 which transferred the PECFA program and the safety and buildings functions from the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations to the Department of Commerce.

Responsibilities of a Board Member

- You are a public official who is dedicated to public service. You are willing to sacrifice your time and tolerate inconvenience, frustration, and scheduling conflicts to be available for board service.
- You have major responsibilities to the public and credential holders.
- You ARE NOT an advocate for private interest or professional groups.
- You must represent the highest standards of ethical and professional conduct.
- You must strive to avoid any relationship, activity or position that may influence, directly or indirectly, the performance of your official duties as a board member.
- You cannot serve as spokesperson for the board unless properly designated by the board.
- You must make public (and recuse yourself from) any conflict of interest that exists to ensure the integrity of the board and all of its decisions.
- You must comply with the rules of confidentiality, at all times, in dealings outside the board meeting.

Importance of Public Members

- You are the voice of the public.
- You expand the range of perspectives available for higher quality and more creative board action.
- You balance decisions that might otherwise favor one faction of the regulated group over another.
- You make the governing board more responsive to the public it affects.
- You reduce the potential for board decisions to be professionally biased.
- You lend credibility to board accessibility and decisions.
- Public Member Concerns:
 - Being intimidated by professional members' experience in the field.
 - May impede board activity if technical issues are not understood.
 - Afraid to ask questions for fear of slowing down the meeting.
 - Professional members not treating public members as Board peers.

Responsibilities of the Board Chair

- Recognize board members are entitled to speak or propose motions.
- Restate the motion after it has been seconded, then open for discussion.
- Close discussion and put motions to a vote. Restate the motion exactly as it was made or amended before calling for the question.
- Announce the result of the vote immediately. A tie vote defeats a motion requiring a majority of those voting. The chair may vote to make or break a tie.
- Avoid entering into any controversy or interfering with legitimate motions.
- Maintain order and proper procedure by making necessary rulings promptly and clearly.
- Expedite board business in every way compatible with the rights of the board members. You can allow brief remarks on motions, advise board members how to take action (proper motion or form of motion), or order proposed routing action without a formal vote (“If there is no objection, the minutes will stand approved as read. Hearing no objection, so ordered”).
- Protect the board from frivolous motions whose purpose is to obstruct the board’s business. You can refuse to entertain such motions. Never adopt such a course, however, merely to expedite business.
- Guard the board’s time by having board members vote to adopt an agenda at the beginning of the meeting. Follow the agenda faithfully. Do not permit unauthorized interruptions by spectators.

What Makes A Successful Board Member?

- Recognition that the goal of the board is the protection of the public.
- Embracing role as a public servant.
- Common sense and a willingness to ask questions.
- Commitment to attendance.
- Willingness to devote time and effort to the work of the board.
- Open .
- Team player.
- Fairness.
- An orderly approach to decision making.
- Ability to set aside personal/business interests.

Board Members Should Avoid:

- Obsession with a single issue.
- Self-serving by bringing own agenda to the table.
- Always taking the “contrarian” view—just for show.
- Expounding on strongly held opinions that are rarely backed by fact or research.
- Unpredictable participation or attendance.

Disappointments Experienced As Board Members:

- Personal goals for improvement of the profession have not been realized.
- The public has not been served fairly.
- Lack of effort and dedication on the part of other board members.
- The “wheels” of government do not move fast enough.

Dealing With The Volatile World Of Meetings

Some of the ideas are best undertaken by the Chair; however, you should feel free to help any meeting to progress. After all, why should you allow your time to be wasted?

- If a participant strays from the agenda item, call him/her back: “We should deal with that separately, but what do you feel about the issue X?”
- If there is confusion, you might ask: “Do I understand correctly that ...?”
- If you do not understand, say so: “I don’t understand that, would you explain it a little more; or, do you mean X or Y?”
- If a point is too vague ask for greater clarity: “What exactly do you have in mind?”
- If the speaker begins to ramble, wait until an inhalation of breath and jump in: “Yes, I understand that such and such, does anyone disagree?”
- If someone interrupts (someone other than the rambler), you should suggest that: “We can hear your contribution after Phoebe is finished.”
- If people chat, you might either simply state your difficulty in hearing/concentrating on the real speaker or ask them a direct question: “What do you think about that point?”
- If someone gestures disagreement with the speaker (e.g., by a grimace), then make sure they are brought into the discussion next: “What do you think Phoebe?”
- If there is an error, look for a good point first: “I see how that would work if X Y Z, but what would happen if A B C?”
- If you disagree, be very specific: “I disagree because

If you have questions about certain activities, you are encouraged to consult with the attorney from the Division of Board Services assigned to your Board.

- Board members must not act in an arbitrary or capricious manner in discharging any of their public duties. All Board member decisions whether the individual or collective ones must be based upon a reasoned consideration of facts applied to the correct law.

Primary Duties of All Board Members

- Be knowledgeable about the statutes and rules governing the Board.
- Review and make decisions on all issues presented to the Board in compliance with the law and with the ultimate goal of protecting the public.
- Be aware that Board members are viewed as representatives of the Board when they appear at public meetings and professional gatherings. Board members should not speak for the Board unless specifically authorized to do so.
