Assessor Experience:

DSPS is authorized under Wis. Stats. § 458.09 to accept assessor experience which it determines to be equivalent to experience as a Licensed, Residential, or General Appraiser.

The Appraiser Qualifications Board (AQB) of the Appraisal Foundation has determined experience credit should be awarded to ad valorem tax appraisers who demonstrate that they (1) use techniques to value properties similar to those used by Appraisers, and (2) effectively use the appraisal process. Components of the mass appraisal process that should be given credit are highest and best use analysis, model specification (developing the model), and model calibration (developing adjustments to the model). Other components of the mass appraisal process, by themselves, are not eligible for experience credit.

Mass appraisals must be performed in accordance with Standards Rule 6 of the USPAP. A mass appraisal includes: (1) identifying properties to be appraised, (2) defining market area of consistent behavior that applies to properties, (3) identifying characteristics (supply and demand) that affect the creation of value in that market area, (4) developing a model structure that reflects the relationship among the characteristics affecting value in the market area, (5) calibrating the model structure to determine the contribution of the individual characteristics affecting value, (6) applying the conclusions reflected in the model to the characteristics of the property(ies) being appraised, and (7) reviewing the mass.

The term "Model" is defined in the Glossary section of USPAP. "Mass Appraisal Model" is defined in the definition section. Models are thoroughly discussed in Standards Rule 6-3 and further references can be found in the USPAP Index.

Models developed for Mass Appraisal purposes can include market models for applying the sales comparison approach, cost models for applying the cost approach, and/or income models for applying the income approach to value. Market models are built using sales data so that they replicate the market. They are then used to value all properties in the jurisdiction at market value. Cost models develop a base unit cost (often per square foot or per cubic foot) for representative structures, which then serve as models to derive the base unit cost of the comparable structures being appraised. Appropriate tables of additions and deductions are used to adjust the base cost. Examples of cost models include the Wisconsin Assessors Manual Vol. II, Marshall & Swift Valuation Service Calculator Method, Boeckh Building Valuation Manual, etc.

Submit the following items so that a determination can be made regarding whether the experience claimed is in compliance with USPAP Standard 6:

1. Verification of employment as an Assessor.
2. A copy of your job description, which identifies the components of your job performance and the hours spent performing each task.
3. A signed statement that the work you are submitting is your own and is in compliance with USPAP Standard 6.
4. Documentation of each of the following items according to type of credential applying for (certified general, commercial, or industrial properties, licensed or certified residential, or residential properties):
 - a. Highest and best use study: A map of the entire area assessed. Please identify and describe the neighborhood you selected.
 - b. Model specification: Copies of five (5) record cards for improved properties located in the neighborhood you selected, at least two (2) of which must relate to sales parcels, a copy of the model you used, and documentation of the analysis of sales.
 - c. Model calibration: Copies of ratio reports for the neighborhood selected, sales documentation for the neighborhood described, and documentation of how the model performed against at least three (3) unsold subject properties.

NOTE: The copy of the model to be submitted to our office is a copy demonstrating a market model, a replacement cost model, or an income model. Please reference the model you are using and how it was developed.

If documentation of assessor experience cannot be obtained, you can submit appraisal reports at the request of the Department. The Department will choose at random from your roster the reports to be sent in.

Certified General Appraiser:

Submit copies of three (3) commercial appraisals which were performed in compliance with USPAP, as in effect at the time the appraisals were prepared. The Department will request that you identify the standard applied to each report.

Licensed Appraiser and Certified Residential Appraiser:

Submit copies of three (3) residential appraisals which were performed in compliance with the USPAP, as in effect at the time the appraisals were prepared. The Department will request that you identify the standard applied.
