5 registration and the scope of practice of interior designers and granting
6 rule-making authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes the following changes to the registration and practice of interior designers:

1. Requires a person to pass an interior design examination administered by an organization approved by the Department of Safety and Professional Services in order to be granted an initial certificate of registration as an interior designer by DSPS. Under current law, a person must pass an interior design examination administered by a national organization that establishes standards for the interior design profession and that is recognized by DSPS or an examination conducted or approved by DSPS that is substantially similar.

2. Eliminates several requirements for obtaining an initial registration as an interior designer, including the requirement under current law to complete an interior design education program of a certain length of time and have certain amounts of practical experience in interior design.

SENATE BILL 303

3. Makes various changes to the scope of interior design.

4. Requires DSPS to promulgate rules establishing specifications for interior design seals and stamps and requires a registered interior designer to impress the seal or stamp on certain documents prepared by the interior designer.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
