DEPARTMENT OF SAFETY AND PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

IN THE MATTER OF RULEMAKING : REPORT TO THE LEGISLATURE
PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE : CR 22-004
DEPARTMENT OF SAFETY AND :
PROFESSIONAL SERVICES :

I. THE PROPOSED RULE:

The proposed rule, including the analysis and text, is attached.

II. REFERENCE TO APPLICABLE FORMS:

N/A

III. FISCAL ESTIMATE AND EIA:

The Fiscal Estimate and EIA is attached.

IV. DETAILED STATEMENT EXPLAINING THE BASIS AND PURPOSE OF THE PROPOSED RULE, INCLUDING HOW THE PROPOSED RULE ADVANCES RELEVANT STATUTORY GOALS OR PURPOSES:

This rule project implements 2021 Wisconsin Act 17, which required the department to create rules relating to the following matters pertinent to home inspection registration and practice:

- Require at least 40 hours of pre-registration education experience and provide standards for the department to approve applicant education. The rules require 40 hours of instruction, with at least 20 hours coming from hands-on instruction in the performance of home inspections and home inspection report writing.
- Provide a pathway for individuals credentialed as a home inspector in another state to apply for reciprocal registration as a home inspector in Wisconsin.
- Eliminate the requirement that registrants complete continuing education during their first two renewal periods as a registered home inspector.
- Revise the department's rules regarding home inspection standards to reflect that home inspection reports must include a summary page with references to the full report, list any defects discovered by the home inspector, and disclosures to the client including a reminder that the summary page is not a substitute for reading the entire report, as well as a statement reminding the client that the home inspector may not provide an opinion on the marketability of the home nor provide an opinion as to whether or not the home should be purchased.

The rule project also brings the department's rules into compliance with other recent legislative enactments, including the arrest record and conviction discrimination provisions in 2017 Act 278; the special pathway for service members, former service members, and their spouses to obtain reciprocity created under 2019 Act 143; and removed the continuing education audit provision as required by 2017 Act 59.

Finally, notes containing incorrect agency contact information have been revised.

V. SUMMARY OF PUBLIC COMMENTS AND THE BOARD’S RESPONSES, EXPLANATION OF MODIFICATIONS TO PROPOSED RULES PROMPTED BY PUBLIC COMMENTS:

The Department of Safety and Professional Services held a public hearing on February 4, 2022. The following people either testified at the hearing, or submitted written comments:

Julie Arnstein, Executive Director, Wisconsin Association of Home Inspectors, Inc. (WAHI)

The Department summarizes the comments received either by hearing testimony or by written submission as follows:

WAHI recommended adding a definition for “hands-on training” as follows: “Hands-on Training ” means training received at a residential dwelling, under the direct instruction and supervision of an individual with specialized education, training, or experience in the subject matter of home inspections. “Hands-on training” should include in-person student participation in the performance of home inspection tasks, and the use of appropriate equipment needed to perform a home inspection.

The Department explains modifications to its rule-making proposal prompted by public comments as follows:

The Department declines to adopt WAHI’s recommended definition as it would unnecessarily restrict education programs from employing other equally effective modalities in providing training to students.

VI. RESPONSE TO LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS:

Comment:

1. If the department accepts comment 2. a., below, citations to ss. 45.44 and 440.052, Stats., should be added to the list of statutes interpreted for this proposed rule.

2. a. The department should consider incorporating the reduced credentialing fees enacted as part of 2017 Wisconsin Act 319 for certain veterans and persons with lower income. Under s. 45.44 (3m), Stats., a veteran applying for an initial registration pays a reduced fee. Under s. 440.052, Stats., an individual with a family income that does not exceed 180 percent of the federal poverty line applying for an initial registration or an initial reciprocal registration pays a reduced fee. These reductions could be implemented in s.

SPS 131.11 for an initial registration and in s. SPS 131.113 (as created by SECTION 5 of the proposed rule) for an initial reciprocal registration.

Response: The department declines to include this additional information as it would be inconsistent with the application provisions for all of the other professions regulated by the department and its affiliated boards. Additionally, fee reduction information is available on both the application form as well as the webpage on which the application forms are located. Links to the department website are provided in notes to the rules so that applicants are able to find the application documents.

Comment: 2. d. In Section 16 of the proposed rule, s. SPS 131.405 (2) requires that an applicant for registration as a home inspector complete an instruction program that includes at least 20 hours of hands-on training in two activities: the performance of home inspections and the drafting of home inspection reports. Does the department wish to specify a minimum number of hours for either of those two activities? That is, could an applicant fulfill the requirement with any combination of training hours split between the two activities (for example, 20 hours of training in the performance of home inspections but no training in the drafting of home inspection reports)?

Response: The department declines to further breakdown the number of hours that a program must require in performance of home inspections and drafting of home inspection reports. Specifying a number of required hours for each task would be arbitrary and require programs to separately track hours spent on two activities that likely in many cases will be done concurrently. Further, the criteria requires training in both activities, so the scenario suggested where someone could have 20 hours in one topic and 0 hours in another would clearly not be allowable under the rule.

All of the remaining recommendations suggested in the Clearinghouse Report have been accepted in whole.

Analysis prepared by the Department of Safety and Professional Services.

ANALYSIS

Statutes interpreted: Sections 440.03 (4m), 440.09, 440.974 and 440.975, stats.

Statutory authority: Sections 440.974 and 440.975, stats.

Explanation of agency authority:

Section 227.11 (2) (a), Stats.: “Each agency may promulgate rules interpreting the provisions of any statute enforced or administered by the agency, if the agency considers it necessary to effectuate the purpose of the statute, but a rule is not valid if the rule exceeds the bounds of correct interpretation.”

Section 440.974, Stats. provides: “(1) The department shall promulgate rules necessary to administer this subchapter, including rules to establish all of the following:

- (a) Standards for acceptable examination performance by an applicant for registration.
- (ag) Standards for instruction for purposes of the requirement under s. 440.972 (1) (bg).
- (b) Subject to s. 440.975, standards for the practice of home inspection by home inspectors and standards for specifying the mechanical and structural components of improvements to residential real property that are included in a home inspection. The rules promulgated under this paragraph shall include standards for the inspection of carbon monoxide detectors. The rules promulgated under this paragraph may not require a home inspector to use a specified form for the report required under s. 440.975 (3).
- (c) Subject to s. 440.975, the information that a home inspector is required to provide to a client concerning the results of the home inspection conducted by the home inspector.

(2) The department shall promulgate rules establishing continuing education requirements for individuals registered under this subchapter. The rules promulgated under this subsection shall require the completion of at least 40 hours of continuing education every 2 years, except that the rules may not require continuing education for an applicant for renewal of a registration that expires on the 1st and 2nd renewal dates after the date on which the department initially granted the registration.”

Related statute or rule: None.

Plain language analysis:

This rule project implements 2021 Wisconsin Act 17, which required the department to create rules relating to the following matters pertinent to home inspection registration and practice:

- Require at least 40 hours of pre-registration education experience and provide standards for the department to approve applicant education. The rules require 40 hours of instruction, with at least 20 hours coming from hand-on instruction in the performance of home inspections and home inspection report writing.
- Provide a pathway for individuals credentialed as a home inspector in another state to apply for reciprocal registration as a home inspector in Wisconsin.
- Eliminate the requirement that registrants complete continuing education during their first two renewal periods as a registered home inspector.
- Revise the department’s rules regarding home inspection standards to reflect that home inspection reports must include a summary page with references to the full report, list any defects discovered by the home inspector, and disclosures to the client including a reminder that the summary page is not a substitute for reading the entire report, as well as a statement reminding the client that the home inspector may not provide an opinion on the marketability of the home nor provide an opinion as to whether or not the home should be purchased.

The rule project also brings the department’s rules into compliance with other recent legislative enactments, including the arrest record and conviction discrimination provisions in 2017 Act 278; the special pathway for service members, former service members, and their spouses to obtain reciprocity created under 2019 Act 143; and removed the continuing education audit provision as required by 2017 Act 59.

Finally, notes containing incorrect agency contact information have been revised.

Summary of, and comparison with, existing or proposed federal regulation:

None.

Summary of public comments received on statement of scope and a description of how and to what extent those comments and feedback were taken into account in drafting the proposed rule:

A preliminary hearing on statement of scope was held on June 18, 2021. The following people and entities commented on the proposed scope:

- Julie Arnstein with the Wisconsin Association of Home Inspectors (WAHI) expressed support for the requirement that home inspectors complete pre-registration education and stated that many already do so as part of the process of studying for and taking the required examination. She also expressed support for requiring that at least some of the pre-registration education include field training in the performance of home inspections. She expressed interest in working with the department on providing input in the drafting of the administrative rules.
- Scott Newcomer and Joel Kleefisch with the All American Association of Home Inspectors (AAHI) also expressed support for requiring field training as part of the pre-registration education requirement. Mr. Newcomer suggested that ½ of the required 40 hours involve field training. He also recommended that education providers be approved by the department in advance. Mr. Newcomer and Mr. Kleefisch expressed interest in working with the department on providing input in the drafting of the administrative rules.

The input received from the WAHI and AAHI was considered in drafting this rule. A requirement that at least 20 of the 40 hours of required education involve training in the performance of home inspections was incorporated into the rule based on this input.

Comparison with rules in adjacent states:

Illinois: Illinois requires 60 hours of pre-licensure education for home inspectors. Programs must be preapproved by the board. The program must include study of exteriors, interiors, roofing, plumbing, electrical, HVAC, structural components, miscellaneous appliances, laws and regulations, and standards of practice including report writing and required disclosures. The program must also include at least 5 field inspection events. (See 68 Ill. Admin. Code § 1410.520).

Each biennium home inspectors are required to complete at least 12 hours of continuing education, unless it has been less than one year since initial licensure, in which case no continuing education is required. If more than one year has passed since initial licensure, at least 6 continuing education hours are required. (See 68 Ill. Admin. Code § 1410.160).

Illinois requires the home inspector to provide the client with a written report that includes the home inspector's name, address and license number, components that will be inspected, and report on any significant deficiencies, why there is a deficiency, and whether the deficiency needs to be corrected. A summary document is not required. (See 68 Ill. Admin. Code § 1410.200).

Iowa: Iowa does not credential home inspectors.

Michigan: Michigan does not credential home inspectors.

Minnesota: Minnesota does not credential home inspectors.

Summary of factual data and analytical methodologies:

The department reviewed the provisions of 2021 Wisconsin Act 17 and revised its administrative rules in ch. SPS 131 to bring them into conformity with Act 17 and other state statutes. The department received and considered input from several organizations, including the Wisconsin Association of Home Inspectors (WAHI) and the All American Association of Home Inspectors (AAHI) in drafting these rules, particularly as it relates to the required pre-registration education requirement.

ADMINISTRATIVE RULES Fiscal Estimate & Economic Impact Analysis

A preliminary hearing on statement of scope was held on June 18, 2021. The following people and entities commented on the proposed scope:

- Julie Arnstein with the Wisconsin Association of Home Inspectors (WAHI) expressed support for the requirement that home inspectors complete preregistration education and stated that many already do so as part of the process of studying for and taking the required examination. She also expressed support for requiring that at least some of the pre-registration education include field training in the performance of home inspections. She expressed interest in working with the department on providing input in the drafting of the administrative rules.
- Scott Newcomer and Joel Kleefisch with the All American Association of Home Inspectors (AAHI) also expressed support for requiring field training as part of the pre-registration education requirement. Mr. Newcomer suggested that onehalf of the required 40 hours involve field training. He also recommended that education providers be approved by the department in advance. Mr. Newcomer and Mr. Kleefisch expressed interest in working with the department on providing input in the drafting of the administrative rules.

The input received from the WAHI and AAHI was considered in drafting this rule. A requirement that at least 20 of the 40 hours of required education involve training in the performance of home inspections was incorporated into the rule based on this input.

The rule was posted on the department's website for 14 days to solicit economic impact comments from small businesses. No comments were received.

13. Identify the Local Governmental Units that Participated in the Development of this EIA.

The rule was posted on the department's website for 14 days to solicit economic impact comments from local governmental units. No comments were received.

14. Summary of Rule's Economic and Fiscal Impact on Specific Businesses, Business Sectors, Public Utility Rate Payers, Local Governmental Units and the State's Economy as a Whole (Include Implementation and Compliance Costs Expected to be Incurred)

DSPS will incur a one time cost of $1500, as well as $1290 on an ongoing annual basis.

15. Benefits of Implementing the Rule and Alternative(s) to Implementing the Rule

The benefit of implementing the rule will be to establish statutorily required prelicensure education requirements for home inspectors and to update the rules to reflect current standards of practice for home inspections. The alternative would be to not implement the rules, which would result in the rules remaining out of line with current statute.

16. Long Range Implications of Implementing the Rule

The long range implication of implenting the rule is that statutorily required prelicensure education requirements will be in place.

17. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Federal Government

NA

18. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Neighboring States (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota)

Illinois: Illinois requires 60 hours of pre-licensure education for home inspectors. Programs must be preapproved by the board. The program must include study of exteriors, interiors, roofing, plumbing, electrical, HVAC, structural components, miscellaneous appliances, laws and regulations, and standards of practice including report writing and required disclosures. The program must also include at least 5 field inspection events. (See 68 Ill. Admin. Code § 1410.520).

Each biennium home inspectors are required to complete at least 12 hours of continuing education, unless it has been less than one year since initial licensure, in which case no continuing education is required. If more than one year has passed since initial licensure, at least 6 continuing education hours are required. (See 68 Ill. Admin. Code § 1410.160).

ADMINISTRATIVE RULES Fiscal Estimate & Economic Impact Analysis

Illinois requires the home inspector to provide the client with a written report that includes the home inspector's name, address and license number, components that will be inspected, and report on any significant deficiencies, why there is a deficiency, and whether the deficiency needs to be corrected. A summary document is not required. (See 68 Ill. Admin. Code § 1410.200).

Iowa: Iowa does not credential home inspectors.

Michigan: Michigan does not credential home inspectors.

Minnesota: Minnesota does not credential home inspectors.
